Nationwide, the No. 1 farm insurer*, is collaborating with industry leaders and agricultural professionals to launch its third annual safety contest as part of this year's Grain Bin Safety Week, which runs Feb 21-27.

The Nominate Your Fire Department Contest runs from Jan. 1 through May 31. It will award grain rescue tubes and hands-on training to help first responders save lives, thanks to the support of KC Supply Co., the National Education Center for Agricultural Safety and Nationwide's other partners.

Hopkins Insurance, Inc. of Pocahontas, Iowa is proud to support this great cause to help save lives. We hope you'll join us in getting the word out to friends and family, and that you'll support your local fire department to be nominated to win a grain rescue tube and rescue training.

For more information about the program, purpose or nomination process, visit www.grainbinsafetyweek.com.

LOOK FOR DAILY TOPICS DURING WEEK OF FEB 21-27 on www.grainbinsafetyweek.com. Articles are written by agribusiness risk management professionals, subject matter experts and other talented and experienced people from agricultural backgrounds who understand the demands and risks of handling and storing grain.

WINTER-SPRING 2016

Everyone Loves a Good Deal

Lower Bushel Prices – what can be good about that? With bushel prices trending lower for 2016 crop insurance policies, the overall premiums will be lower AND you will have market upside potential with your coverage included on Revenue Protection policies. If the market moves up next fall, your policy bushel price can go up to TWICE the set base bushel price included in the premium. If you just don't want to settle for the current bushel prices on your policy, check out a new private product we offer that allows you to increase your bushel price. We are currently meeting with our producers to help them decide on a plan for 2016, finding the right balance of coverage and price to manage risk in the most cost effective way. Give us a call if you have questions or if you would like to set up a visit!
